

CLASSES

Caroline James runs Watercolour Painting Classes from The Village Hall, in Long Ashton, near Bristol, on three days a week.

The details are as follows:

Tuesdays, in The Club room from 10 – 12.30pm

Wednesdays in the Pavilion from 10 – 12.30pm

Thursdays in the Pavilion from 1.30 – 3.30pm

All groups are mixed ability and the maximum students are 14 to a class. This is to enable Caroline to give everyone individual attention. Her working methods are to start with a demonstration and follow it up with one to one teaching. At the end of the session there is a friendly constructive crit. Coffees, teas and biscuits are included in the price, which is £8 a session. However payment is made half termly. Her policy is to learn and have fun!
